SUEZ PROUD SPONSOR OF THE AUSTRALIAN WATER AWARDS

SUEZ believes innovation and advancement through research is a crucial part of meeting tomorrow's challenges. SUEZ is a proud sponsor of the Australian Water Awards, which recognise and reward outstanding achievement of individuals and organisations in the water sector.

The South Australian Water Awards were held on Friday 23 November and celebrate outstanding contributions to the South Australian water industry.

SUEZ's CEO for Water, David Lamy, presented the Hodgson Medal – Student Water Prize - to Andrew Knight for his work on the Onshore Influence of Offshore Fresh Groundwater at Flinders University.

The Student Water Prize rewards students for excellence in water-related studies and research, and provides a forum for students to display their academic excellence, innovation, or research findings to future employees, clients and the water industry.

SUEZ congratulates all winners at the South Australian Water Awards and wish them the best of luck at the National Awards.
